

This brainteaser was written by Patrick Vennebush.

Draw three lines (not necessarily straight) so that each circle is connected to another circle with the same letter (that is, A to A, B to B, and C to shining C). The lines may not intersect one another, and they may not extend beyond the rectangle.

